"Guardian/Conservator and Supported Decision Making"

The late Ed Podvoll, Buddhist psychiatrist and founder of Windhorse Community Services, wrote about islands of clarity in his book The Seduction of Madness. He stated, "Moments of insight, common sense, or compassion continually interrupt mental turbulence."

DATES: April 6, 2022

TIMES: 6-8 EST, 4-6 MT, 3-5 PT

PLACE: Virtual Group

Supported Decision Making is currently legislated in 14 states. In a supported decision-making model, individuals with disabilities, whose decision-making autonomy has been restricted or completely removed, are capable with the support and help of trusted family members and friends to make and communicate their own decisions. Each of the presenters will speak of their advocacy experience and suggest how we can strategize and push for changes to the unjust system that currently exists.
