ABOUT THE FILM: Danny was first put on powerful psychiatric drugs -- starting with Thorazine -- when he was 12. Now in his 50's, Danny has never, until recently, envisioned a life without psychiatric drugs.

This film is about Danny's journey and his struggle to get off or reduce his psychiatric medications. Along the way we hear from his family members, psychiatric survivors, psychiatrists, authors and mental health workers. Each thoughtfully considers the current mental health treatment paradigm in America.

Part of the film was shot in Lane County with local mental health workers and activists.
